

In Living Color

Sep 6, 2018 | Guy Merrill

Age is only a number. For this positive and contemporary portrait series, photography group, Flashpop, restricted themselves to a strict palette of primary colors. The aim was to challenge stereotypes about age, and producer Rhiannon Llewelyn worked closely with them to source a diverse and unique group of older models. Through this great casting and a strong brief, this portrait series demonstrates a modern approach to beauty, confidence, and friendship.